

WORKING FAMILIES REPORT CARD: VERMONT

Across the nation, people are working harder than ever, but too many families are still struggling to make ends meet. For many hardworking people in Vermont, it's been too long since they got a raise; workplace policies make it nearly impossible for people to both care for and provide for their families; and discrimination shuts too many people out of good-paying jobs. It does not have to be this way. Democratic lawmakers in Congress have introduced responsible solutions to help Americans make a better life for themselves and their families.

ACROSS THE NATION & IN THE STATE

MINIMUM WAGE

Full-time, year-round work at the current federal minimum wage of $7.25 leaves a family of three below the federal poverty line. In Vermont, 55,000 people will benefit from an increase in the federal minimum wage to $12 by 2020.

PREGNANT WORKER FAIRNESS

There are 2.4 million pregnant women in our nation's labor force—all too often they are denied explicit reasonable job accommodations. In Vermont, there are 4,962 pregnant women in the labor force.

LGBT EQUALITY

Lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT) individuals are more likely to have low incomes in states that lack explicit protections from discrimination—4.9 percent of Vermonters identify as LGBT.

AFFORDABLE CHILD CARE

Only one in six children eligible for federal child care assistance actually receives it. In Vermont, there is no waiting list for child care subsidies.

PRE-K ACCESS

Nationwide, only three in ten four-year-olds are currently enrolled in a high-quality preschool program. Only 58.7 percent of 3- and 4-year-olds in Vermont are enrolled in state prekindergarten programs.

EQUAL PAY

Nationwide, women working full-time, year-round typically make only 79 cents for every dollar a man makes. On average, women in Vermont make only 83.8 cents for every dollar paid to their male counterparts. Compared to their white male counterparts, Asian American women earn 57 cents on the dollar, African American women earn 77.5 cents on the dollar and Latina women earn 69.8 cents on the dollar.

SICK LEAVE

Across the nation, 43 million workers do not have access to a single day of paid sick leave. In Vermont, 40.6 percent of workers lack access to paid sick leave.

Some states aren't waiting for Congress – they are taking steps to enact the responsible solutions working families need. How does Vermont stack up?

RESTORING ECONOMIC STABILITY FOR WORKING FAMILIES

It's time for Congress to change the rules to restore economic stability to help working families succeed. House Democrats' Working Families Resolution will:

- Boost wages by raising the minimum wage, eliminating the tipped minimum wage, strengthening workers' right to organize, and protecting workers from misclassification
- Help working people achieve a better balance between work and family by providing workers with paid sick days, paid family leave, and flexible, predictable, and stable schedules while also ensuring that workers have access to high-quality early learning opportunities and affordable child care
- Level the playing field by strengthening the law guaranteeing equal pay for equal work, ensuring that pregnant workers have an unmistakably clear right to reasonable accommodations when they need them to continue working safely during pregnancy, and providing explicit protections from discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity
