

Congress of the United States
Washington, DC 20515

March 27, 2025

The Honorable Donald J. Trump
President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Ave. NW
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear President Trump:

We write to express our outrage at your unprecedented dismissal of Commissioners Charlotte Burrows and Jocelyn Samuels of the bipartisan U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (“EEOC” or “the Commission”).¹ This unlawful abuse of presidential power undermines the EEOC’s historic independence, harms U.S. workers, and unduly politicizes the Commission’s work. It also impedes the Commission’s ability to fully carry out its critical mission on behalf of the American people. We urge you to swiftly reinstate Commissioners Burrows and Samuels.

Congress established the EEOC with strong bipartisan support in 1964 to advance equal opportunity for all.² The independent, bipartisan, multi-member commission is the primary federal law enforcement agency dedicated to preventing and addressing employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, childbirth, or related conditions, gender identity, and sexual orientation), national origin, age, disability, and genetic information.³ Workers experiencing discrimination rely on the EEOC to be a fair and independent body that protects everyone’s rights, not one controlled by the political prerogatives of the executive.

From 2014-2024, the EEOC recovered $5.6 billion for workers who were discriminated against under these laws,⁴ significantly more than the agency’s appropriations during that time period. For FY 2024, the EEOC secured a record $700 million for workers who ³ The EEOC is responsible for enforcing Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VII), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, the Pregnancy Discrimination Act of 1978, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Titles I and V of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Title II of the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008, and the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act of 2022. experienced discrimination.⁵ The EEOC's role in enforcing these protections is essential to ensuring that all workers have a fair chance to obtain employment, provide for their families, and contribute to our economy.

The Administration's firing of Commissioner Burrows and Commissioner Samuels is unprecedented and an intrusion into Congress' Article I constitutional authority. The appointment of EEOC Commissioners is governed by statute and is designed to ensure the agency's independence from the executive.⁶ The President appoints Commissioners and the Senate confirms them. That is the beginning and end of the executive's role in determining who can sit on the Commission and for how long. The law not only expressly requires the Commission to be bipartisan, but it also sets out five-year terms, a design that ensures that Commissioners' terms run between presidential terms, another purposeful action by Congress to ensure the Commission's independence.⁷

Longstanding Supreme Court precedent also confirms that multi-member independent commissions such as the EEOC enjoy protection from "coercive influence" of the executive.⁸ In Humphrey's Executor v. United States, 295 U.S. 602 (1935), the Supreme Court made clear that members of independent commissions like the EEOC cannot be removed at will by the President.⁹ Prior Presidents have agreed; no Commissioner of the EEOC has ever been removed prior to the expiration of their term in the Commission's 60-year history.

The removal of Commissioner Burrows and Commissioner Samuels also undermines the Commission's independence. Both Commissioner Burrows and Commissioner Samuels had been confirmed by bipartisan votes of the Senate prior to the start of their terms, with Commissioner Burrows' term not set to expire until July 2028 and Commissioner Samuels term not set to expire until July 2026.¹⁰

⁸ "For it is quite evident that one who holds his office only during the pleasure of another cannot be depended upon to maintain an attitude of independence against the latter's will." Humphrey's Executor v. United States, 295 U.S. 602, 629 (1935).

Workers deserve to earn a living free from discrimination and feel confident that when they are harmed, they can count on an independent EEOC, not a politicized body, to protect their rights. We urge you to reinstate Commissioner Burrows and Commissioner Samuels, and we look forward to your urgent response.

Sincerely,
